VOLUME XXXII. NUMBER 3.

IRONTON, MISSOURI.

THURSDAY, JULY 6, 1906.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The huckleberries are ripe. The 4th was a model picnic day. Remember the horse show July 18th.

There was an unusually heavy rain Saturday night. Trains from the south were very late several days last week.

A few cantaloupes and tomatoes were imported the past week.

We hope that all our readers had a glorious Fourth of July.

The land office closed shop last Friday and went out of business.

The blackberries are in the market. The roasting ear is here, too.

The Dr. Goulding place, west of town, will be sold next Saturday.

The first two weeks of June indicated a drouth, but not the last two.

The date of the next Sunday excursion from St. Louis is August 13th.

Tual Bros. are building an addition to their store house in Arcadia.

The cow, with the infernal, annoying bell, still roams at will in Ironton.

A new boiler, we understand, will be put in the ice factory at Arcadia.

To Mr. J. P. Gillam we are indebted for a couple of heads of fine cabbage.

The Session of the Presbyterian church will meet next Sunday at 10:30 for the reception of members.

The Ladies' Guild of St. Paul's Church meets at Mrs. Mann Ringo's Thursday afternoon at two o'clock.

Gentry Ramsey and wife last week sold their farm in Bellevue to John M. McDowell of Illinois. Price, $1400.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Lewis, Ironton, Mo., Thursday, June 29, 1906, a 11 pound boy. All are doing well.

The usual amount of gun powder was burned in the valley on the 4th. Some of the fireworks were most attractive.

We are glad to note that Mrs. J. G. Reynolds, who has been quite sick for the past month, is able to be about again.

Bishop E. R. Hendrix will hold the St. Louis conference, M. E. Church, South, September 20th, at Caruthersville, Mo.

Jim Dubacher, who was so long driver of the beer wagon for Fred. Buchschenschuetz at Middlebrook, is now delivering beer for the creamery.

Mr. J. Lopez was a member of the order of Knights of Pythias, and also of the Modern Woodmen. He carried $5,000 life insurance in each of these orders.

Among the visitors to Ironton on the 4th was E. W. Farrar, of Rison, Arkansas. Ward is employed in the lumber business, and his old friends in the valley will be glad to know he is prospering.

Mr. Chas. M. Hay failed to reach Ironton in time to speak at the picnic on account of the delay of the north-bound train. He was himself very much disappointed in not getting to attend the picnic.

Remember that Dr. Stevens, President of Carleton College, will preach the opening sermon of the District Conference Wednesday, 8 P. M. Don't miss the opening sermon. T. G. PETERSON.

Geo. C. Orchard, county clerk of Butler county and proprietor of the Poplar Bluff Citizen, and daughter were visitors to the Valley last Saturday. Mr. Orchard is thinking of sending his family here for the heated term.

While in St. Louis Monday we had the pleasure of meeting our good friend, Mr. Herman Kretschmar, who has returned from San Francisco and will again make his home in St. Louis. Mr. Kretschmar will probably visit valley friends soon.

Lost—On the 4th of July, between Goulding's Park and Ironton, a 32 caliber, steel automatic Colt's revolver, rapid fire, no cylinder, uses smokeless steel jacket cartridges. Reward of $5 will be paid for its return to the undersigned. JOHN I. MARSHALL.

We have purchased one hundred new song books to use in our tent meeting. You are invited to come to the Methodist Episcopal Church Thursday, 8 o'clock P. M., for practice. Let all who will help to sing come. T. G. PETERSON, Pastor.

The District Conference will be held in a large tent. We desire to make it a great revival. The meeting will continue for some weeks after the conference closes. You are cordially invited to attend and take part in these services. T. G. PETERSON, Pastor.

Prof. J. T. Patterson of Bellevue has been chosen as principal of the Des Arc school for the ensuing year. Prof. Patterson is a teacher of many years' experience, and he always makes "top notch" grades at the examinations. He will be engaged at Montana, this county, the next two months, and will then open the school at Des Arc.

Mr. Thos. C. Cunningham was moved by the spirit of New Century Knighthood to safeguard his gift of a farm and other securities, aggregating $40,000 to Morrisville College. No boy who uses profanity, alcohol or tobacco can be a beneficiary of this endowment.—St. Louis Advocate.

The Temple Builders of the Baptist Church will hold their regular quarterly meeting on the lawn at the residence of the pastor, Rev. Geo. Steel on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock P. M. All the members of the congregation and Sunday School and their friends are cordially invited.

Rev. O. W. Rose, who was fifteen years ago pastor of the M. E. church here and at Graniteville, was in Ironton last Saturday on his way from St. Louis to Little Rock. Mr. Rose has been engaged in church work at Little Rock for the past year and is getting along very well.

Dr. Wilson, our veterinary surgeon, drove a fine span of horses to Ironton and back last Saturday, and just as he got home one of them staggered and fell, and died in a very short time. The Dr. generally has pretty good horses, but that drive was too much for that one.—Fredericktown Tribune.

We regret to learn that our good friend, Rev. J. M. Huber, who has been stationed at the Ursuline Convent in Arcadia the past two or three years, has been transferred to Advance, Mo. Father Huber is a most excellent gentleman, and the REGISTER certainly wishes him the greatest success in his new field.

A diamond drill outfit and a number of men and teams from the lead belt passed through here last Friday morning on their way to Marble Creek, where they will be for some time employed prospecting the land there recently optioned by St. Francois county parties. We hope their finds will be rich.

The Christian Endeavorers of the Presbyterian Church have arranged for a Literary, Musical and Ice Cream Social, to be given at the Church on Tuesday evening, July 11th. Entertainment will be in the Church beginning at eight o'clock, and the ice cream will be served on the lawn. The entertainment is free and all are invited.

After careful and thoughtful consideration the REGISTER is of the opinion that the location in the valley of the proposed sanitarium for the treatment of tuberculosis is not to be desired. And we believe that a majority of our people have the same opinion in the premises. And, furthermore, even if we wanted it we wouldn't have "a ghost of a show" to land the institution. But we don't want it.

Ernest Smith and Lee Usher of near Smithboro had a fight Monday. The fight was of the "rough and tumble" variety in which they used everything they could get hold of as weapons. Both received several bruises on the head. No arrests were made for fighting, but Smith was arrested Tuesday on a charge of slander and will have his trial Saturday before Esquire January at Lesterville.—Reynolds County Outlook.

The new officers of the State hospital will take charge to-morrow. Mr. and Mrs. Waters came in from New Madrid Thursday morning. Dr. Kuhn will arrive to-day. Mr. and Mrs. Gresham and children leave to-day for their home at Sikeston. We are sorry to see them leave our community. We are pleased to know that Dr. Keith probably will locate in this county for the practice of his profession.—Farmington News.

Mr. and Mrs. Mauthe and Mrs. Harmony attended the graduating exercises of the Arcadia convent Monday. They returned home Tuesday morning accompanied by their daughters, Misses Mayne Mauthe and Mamie Harmony, who are members of the graduating class. The former graduating in music and the latter completing the classical course. They are both bright young girls and ranked high in their class.—De Soto Press.

The Fourth at Ironton was celebrated in the usual way: a barbecue—with the meats greatly deficient in quantity—at Goulding's Park, during the day, and a ball at night; Roman candles, fire-crackers, sky-rockets, balloons, etc. The picnic crowd was a big one and good-natured. Few drunks and no scraps. The ball was well attended. The weather was perfect. By-and-large the celebration was a success, if the procession was not imposing.

From the 12th of June to last Sunday there were six "chain-gang" crews working out of De Soto to Piedmont and twelve out of St. Louis; but last Sunday three crews were cut off of St. Louis runs and two crews cut off of De Soto runs and put on runs out of St. Louis. Only four trains are now running out of De Soto in "chain gang." Railroad men say that men who have been running trains for six years cannot hold a regular run out of St. Louis or De Soto; they work extra or go to the Hoxie division.—Piedmont Banner.

Thomas Harvey, aged 75 years, died at 1:45 A. M. Monday at the residence of his sister, Mrs. T. H. Moore, after a lingering ailment of several months with an attack of tuberculosis of the throat. Mr. Harvey was one of the oldest citizens of Poplar Bluff and was greatly admired by all for his kind and affectionate disposition. He was well known by almost every person in this city, having resided here for many years.—Poplar Bluff Citizen.

Mr. Harvey was for many years a resident of Ironton and the older inhabitants will remember him. General, jovial Tom! May he rest in peace!

Down in Ripley county it is reported that Hayes and Will Mallugin have been indicted in the circuit court on information for operating their livery stable on Sunday. This is putting the "lid" on rather tight. It will get so by and by that it will be a violation of the law to eat on Sunday. Suppose a preacher of our town wanted to go to the country to preach according to some people's idea he could be indicted. When this radical, nonsensical reform craze has passed away, we then will be ourselves again, fighting for reason and common sense. Hayes and Will Malugin are brothers of our esteemed townsman, Sam Malugin, and no better citizens live than they are.—Wayne County Journal.

W. D. Bay, a former Iron county boy and school teacher, writes the REGISTER from Centuria, Washington, under date of June 23d: "I have just been re-employed to teach in the Centuria schools another year, so the REGISTER will find me here for some time to come. The REGISTER and I have been companions so long that I cannot get along without it. I have been in Portland most of this week, seeing the sights at the fair. I visited the Missouri building, but I found no names registered from Iron county. The building is a neat structure and has a very homelike appearance within. The exposition is proving a success financially as well as otherwise. Our State has a very fine building and an excellent exhibit."

In chambers at Hillsboro last Friday Judge Jos. J. Williams admitted Mrs. Mary E. Spauld, charged with being accessory to the murder of Sheriff John W. Polk to bail in the sum of $2500. The bond was signed by David Walker of Madison county, and Joseph Williams, one of defendant's attorneys, of Hillsboro—both sureties making affidavit that they had property, aside from exemptions, beyond the amount of the bond. The bond was approved by the Judge and Mrs. Spauld released. She had been confined in jail here since the murder of Sheriff Polk May 25th. Wm. and Arthur Spauld were taken from jail here to Hillsboro as witnesses in their mother's behalf. But they were not used as witnesses and their attorneys did not put them on the stand.

Two hundred and seventy-four cadets, valued in the aggregate at more than $5,480, are vacant in the Military Department of the University of Missouri. These vacancies will be filled within the next ninety days by the members of the Missouri Legislature. A law passed in 1899 gives each State Senator and each Representative, power to appoint cadets from his senatorial district or county. Boys thus appointed are matriculated in the Academic, Engineering and Agricultural departments of the University free of tuition and entrance fees. The State furnishes them good uniforms. The total value of each appointment is more than $20, which is quite an aid to any student. Candidates for appointment must be graduates of a four-year high school, academy or college. Our representative of this county and Senator Farris of this district have appointments to give to those aspiring.

Following is the programme of the District Conference, Farmington District, St. Louis Conference, to be held at Ironton, July 12th to 14th:

Wednesday 12th, Education Day. 7:30—Praise service, Rev. A. M. Stickney. 8:00—Sermon, Rev. H. L. Steves, D. D. THURSDAY, 13. 9:00 A. M.—Devotional, Rev. R. H. Enyeart. 9:30 A. M.—Business. 10:30 A. G. B. Thomas.

One hundred pounds of dynamite accidentally exploded in the boiler house and blacksmith shop at the mines of the Red Head Mining Co., at Red Head diggings, about two miles west of Palmer, on Tuesday, June 20th. The dynamite was in an open box together with a lot of fuse and percussion caps, and was accidentally set on fire by a spark from the blacksmith forge. Four men, William Yount, J. R. Cross, Arthur Hult and Doc Scaggs, were in the shop at the time and all ran as soon as they noticed the powder burning. Yount, however, thinking he could prevent an explosion, turned back to extinguish the blaze, but he scarcely had time to reach the box when the percussion caps went off and discharged the dynamite. Yount was instantly killed. Hult, who also checked his running when he saw Yount turn back, was severely jarred by the explosion, but suffered no serious injury.

The other two men got safely out of harm's way before the powder let go. The force of the explosion completely wrecked the shop, turned the steam boiler over and blew a stationary engine from its setting and landed it some distance away. Yount was a married man and left a large family; the youngest child only a few weeks old, who have the sympathy of the community in their misfortune.—Potosi Journal.

The Death of Mr. J. Lopez.

I have seen many of the mutations attending three-score years; have felt the pulse of joy and known the drone of sorrow again and again. The nearest and dearest have been taken from the home circle by sudden death or through the slow and certain approaches of disease. Link by link has the chain of life's friendship been shortened until to-day I may count upon the fingers of one hand the names of those now living who in my youth formed the world about me. The heart is mercifully calloused by the burden of years to the lash of woes and misfortune whose blows ever thicken as the end draws nearer and nearer. The frost which kills in the sap of spring is innocuous to the dead of winter. Death is terrible to youth; to age 'tis but an incident, certain, though saddening even when the victim hath garnered his fullness of days. Yet, the aged are rarely heart-broken, but stolidly endure the ills that earlier in life would have distraught reason and been beyond the bearing.

Last Sunday we had just sat down to dinner when there came a knock at the door, and one of the members of the family answered the call. In a minute or two he returned with the announcement, "Jake Lopez is drowned!" "Drowned? that cannot be!" was the exclamation that desire forced to our lips against the sickening truth. The dinner was left untasted, and soon the whole town was alarmed and in motion. Vehicles were secured and the way to the Shut-In—where the fatal accident had occurred—was lined with hurrying neighbors and friends. Upon their arrival at the place, several parties went into the water in search for the body of the drowned man. The stream—Stout's creek—flows through the gorge, and is rough with rocks hidden and above the surface. The recent rains had greatly increased the body of water and its current was swift and boisterous, with deep pools here and there. After a search of one hour and a half the body was finally discovered in a pool probably a hundred and fifty yards below the place where it had disappeared. The remains were taken to the residence of Mr. Price Ringo in Arcadia, and that evening a coroner's inquest was held over it. According to the evidence—somewhat conflicting—a verdict was rendered that deceased came to his death through drowning. The facts attending the fatality are: Last Sunday morning, Mr. Lopez, attended by Mr. Oscar Ringo and wife, and Mrs. Berg's sister, Mrs. Dennis—all of St. Louis—went down to the Shut-In to bathe. Mr. L. was the first to enter the muddy water, and, diving, struck his head upon a rock with such force as to render him unconscious, and he sank to rise no more. His horrified companions could do nothing to help him, and Mr. Berg immediately drove to town with his startling news.

Such the brief detail of the untimely taking off of one esteemed and beloved by all who knew him. Born and reared in this town, he, in his thirty-four years, had made an enemy of no one worthy the name of friend. To me he was almost as a member of my own family, and, despite the familiarity which an existence beyond the average duration has bred to the uncertainty of life, I can not yet fully realize that I shall never again take him by the hand; never more hear his cheery voice, nor meet his pleasant gibe with friendly answer. I am safely cry, May his eternal award be commensurate with his virtues on earth! Mr. J. Lopez was one of a family of eight: father, mother, three daughters, and three sons. Of these but one now remains. I knew them all, and am led to pause in consideration of the evanescence of human existence. Truly, "man is as a shadow and continueth not."

The remains were taken to St. Louis by his brother, Mr. A. Lopez, who had been notified by wire and came down on No. 1 Sunday evening. They were attended to the station here Monday morning by a delegation from the local lodge of K. P., of which the deceased was a charter member. The body was interred in Bellefontaine Cemetery Wednesday morning, the funeral occurring from the residence, 3748 Westminster Place, at 10 o'clock.
